

Patriot

Aztec Eagles
Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

Aztec Eagles

Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

Mexico delared war against the Axis powers in May 1942. As a result Mexico formed the "Fuerza Aerea Expedicionaria Mexicana", a three hundred man Air Force Squadron, known as Squadron 201. These three hundred members became the only veterans of foreign wars in the history of Mexico.

Aztec Eagles

Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

Among the 300 men, were 38 experienced pilots and 252 ground crewmen. Squadron 201 received training in the United States - using the P-47 Airplane. They arrived in the Philippines on April 30, 1945.

Aztec Eagles
 Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

Although only in the Philippines for six months, the squadron participated in 59 combat missions, dropped 1038 bombs and fired over a million rounds of ammo. In all the 201st Squadron totaling over 1,290 hours of fight.

Aztec Eagles
 Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

Five 201 pilots died - One was shot down by enemy anti-aircraft fire; one died in a crash, and three ran out of fuel, crashed and died at sea after being lost in bad weather.

Aztec Eagles
 Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

The men of the Mexican Expeditionary Air Force were highly decorated:

- Philippine Presidential Unit Citation
- Mexican Medal of Valor
- World War II Victory Medals
- U.S. Air Medals

Aztec Eagles
Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

The pilots became national heroes of Mexico. They were decorated by the President of Mexico with the Medalla Por Servicio en el Lejano Oriente, a special medal that was the only decoration ever awarded for foreign combat by Mexican military personnel.

Aztec Eagles
Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

201st Squadron
Commander Colonel
Antonio Cardenas
Rodriguez

Aztec Eagles
Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

Officers of the 201st Mexican Fighter Squadron pose for the cameraman at Majors Field, Greenville, Texas.

Aztec Eagles

Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

201st Squadron pilots in flight gear, (left-right), 1st LT. Julio Cali Y Mayor Sauz, 2nd LT. Miguel Moreno Arreola, 1st LT. Carlos Garduno Nunez, 2nd LT. Praxedis Lopez Ramos, 1st LT. Reynaldo Perez Gallardo, 2nd LT. Angel Sanchez Rebollo.

Aztec Eagles

Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

P-47s of the 201st Mexican Fighter Squadron (FAEM) with Mexican tail and wing insignia and American P-47, on the right, using same air strip, Porac, Clark Field, Luzon, Philippine Islands.

Aztec Eagles

Mexico Air Force Squadron 201

"Monument honoring "El Escuadron 201"

Aztec Eagles

Mexico Air Force Squadron 201